

BE FLOOD SMART

As with Hurricane Florence, heavy rain with winds can cause power outages and flooding, especially along coastal communities in the Patuxent and Potomac rivers. Director Adam Ortiz offers some helpful tips to prepare for storm water runoff and flooding during Hurricanes such as Florence on CTV* at <https://youtu.be/vLmYOGbUMYg>

- Please heed warnings from the National Weather Service for our area: <https://www.weather.gov/lwx/>
- As well as signing up for County alerts through our system at alert.mypgc.us
- Make a flood plan, know if you live behind a levee, and other flood management information can be found on our County website at: <https://www.princegeorgescountymd.gov/363/Flood-Management> *
- CTV currently is responsible for the funding and operations of two access channels, 76 and 70 — the public and government access channels, respectively. These channels can also be seen on Verizon's FIOS service on 42 and 41.

Department of the Environment Brittani Garner
Prince George's County Government Agency